

Domestic Affairs Minister Ter Horst: uphold magic mushroom prohibition

6-12-08

Minister Ter Horst believes that the magic mushroom prohibition should just be upheld. Since Monday, no fresh magic mushrooms may be sold and that prohibition directly lead to a discussion on the uphold.

Mayor Cohen of Amsterdam said that he will not execute the measure until further notice, because a lot of things are unclear. There also was discussion within the cabinet.

Ter Horst now says that it has to be upheld "in a type of cooperation between local council and police". Next week, the cabinet sends a letter about the magic mushrooms to the Lower Chamber. This letter should "clarify" the uphold.
